A low-profile PET planter that adds biophilic warmth to any surface without the visual weight. At home on a credenza, beside a screen, or anchoring a shared zone.

Description

Surface-level biophilia that actually earns its spot. The Woomera Low Planter introduces natural softness at desk and counter height, in collaborative zones, reception areas, and the kind of spaces where a tall planter would interrupt sightlines rather than enhance them.

The form is the same resolved, handle-free geometry as the Tall version, just proportioned for where people are seated or gathered rather than standing. Works with a standard planter liner for hassle-free installation and sits quietly within a range of project aesthetics without competing for attention.

Not every space needs a tall planter. Sometimes the right move is something lower, quieter, and just as considered.

The vertical grain of the PET gives it texture that reads well against hard surfaces. The cylindrical form is simple and intentional.

Made from 100% recyclable PET. Red List Free. Low VOC. In multiples, it contributes soft acoustic absorption to hard-surfaced spaces. A small addition that makes a considered fitout feel complete.
